What super power(s) do you bring?
Enthusiasm, energy, and charm.

One word to describe your SRO experience...
Adventurous

How would you describe your typical day?
E-mail, e-mail, email! Meetings. Reviewing and adding to my never ending "to-do" list (and rejoicing when I can cross a task off!). Caffeine. Assisting in reviewing sample for SCA, while encouraging TLs to push IWERs to complete IWs while maintaining our split. Snack supplier for SCA IWERs.

How did you end up in your field?
I started as an IWER and quickly developed an interest in aspects of research conducted here.

People would be surprised to know that ...
The first coast-to-coast telephone line was established in July, 1914.

New Staff

Debra Heier

What super power(s) do you bring?
My desire to reward great work! I don't have a cape, but I do have my mighty treat jar.

One word to describe your SRO experience... Enlightening

How would you describe your typical day?
Very full from the moment I arrive to the moment I leave.

How did you end up in your field?
I don't feel as though I ended up in this field. I started in SRO as an SSL IWER primarily because I needed a job at the time. I found the opportunity was a good fit for me, and I grew into my current role.

People would be surprised to know that ...
I have been a regular AATA bus rider for over 30 years.

Nancy Walker

One word to describe your SRO experience...
Elysian

How would you describe your typical day...
Come in, be blinded by the brilliance of my colleagues, and do my best to carry on the tradition of those that came before. Probably eat some lunch. Then, repeat step 1.

How did you end up in your field?
Largely by happy accident. One of those moments where you realize there's actually a job that fits the stuff you love doing.

People would be surprised to know that ...
You can find me on IMDb, and my page features a handful of terrible horror films. (Bonus fact: my Bacon Number is 3.)
