

Purpose

The Financial Services Group (“FSG”) of Survey Research Operations (“SRO”) Vision statement has been written to establish a goal for our continued development as a subunit. The statements are in alignment with the Mission Statements of the Institute for Social Research and the University of Michigan, and have been authored in the context of SRO as a subunit of Survey Research Center (“SRC”). The FSG aims to provide the highest quality of analysis, customer service, and thoughtful financial support to projects as a part of Survey Research Operations.

FSG Vision

As part of the SRC and its position as a leader in “Social Science in the Public Interest”, we aim to provide exceptional financial support to our stakeholders at a level unrivaled by our peers within the University community. We will strive to be inventive and explore new methods for proactive analysis for our projects.

We will hold ourselves accountable for all transactions within our respective projects, and commit to strong communication with our project teams. We will always remain diligent, mitigate risk, and act as responsible financial stewards in our adherence to financial rules and regulations, best practices and constant improvement, and display curiosity in our approach to new solutions for our projects.
